

Chris Heath is an award-winning British screenwriter who has written for a whole host of kids' comedy TV shows on channels like CBeebies, Sky Kids and Milkshake. He also created and wrote all 45 episodes of award-winning Kids' series, The World According To Grandpa. He also wrote two series of Radio 4 sitcom, Clement Doesn't Live Here Anymore (with Marc Haynes) and has written material for names like Sir Lenny Henry, Johnny Vegas, Roland Rat, Brian Conley, Zig and Zag and Paddy McGuinness.

Barbara Spitz was born in London as the child of Viennese immigrants. After cutting her teeth in various rock bands in the 70s, including a spell in the legendary "Sadista Sisters", Barbara got the taste for theatre and made her debut at the Schauspielhaus, Vienna in 1983. She has gone on to perform on international stages in plays, operas, music theatre and her own devised pieces, working in both German and English at venues including the Edinburgh Festival, Sydney Opera House, Amsterdam Musiktheater and the Komischer Oper Berlin where she appeared in Barrie Kosky's prize winning production of "Anatevka" (Fiddler on the Roof) which returned for performances at the Schiller Theater, Berlin in February 2024. She also appears in films and TV. "What a Feeling" was released in European cinemas in April 2024.