

The Magic Jade Green Bonbon

At first Duncan was disappointed when Bibin told him she didn't have the usual fortune cookie for him at the end of his meal at Miss Wu's Chinese restaurant. He didn't really like the taste of the fortune cookie but he was always excited to read his fortune on the tiny slip of paper inside the cookie.

He began to sulk but his eyes grew wide when Binbin took something out of her pocket and held it in the palm of her hand. It was a little round ball wrapped in a shiny red wrapper with golden Chinese letters written on it. She told him that this was a very unusual bonbon. It tasted any flavour he wanted and didn't get smaller no matter how long he sucked in. But more importantly it was made of jade and had the power to grant him a wish.

As long as you suck the bonbon your wish will come true. But as wishes become real they sometimes can become different from what you might expect. If you feel you are in danger you must spit the bonbon out and wrap it up in this paper and put it back into your pocket. Duncan thanked her, put the bonbon in his pocket.

When he got home he went straight to his room and opened the red wrapper with the gold Chinese letters and saw a bright green jade bonbon with a hole in the middle. I wonder what the Chinese letters say he thought to himself. Next time I'll ask Binbin .

Then he wrapped the bonbon in the red wrapping with the gold Chinese letters and put it in the special box he put his treasures in and went to bed.
